

Carlo Arturo GARUZZO

Email: cgaruzzo@fly-energy.com

In June 2009 Carlo Arturo Garuzzo founded Solesa Green Power srl, in Turin, Italy, a venture dedicated to large scale Solar Energy Renewable fields.

Prior to founding Solesa Green Power, Mr. Garuzzo was Founder of and an Investor in Fly-Energy Srl, also in Turin. Fly-Energy, currently run by energy-market driven managers, is leading the Green Revolution in Italy investing in renewable ventures as SolesaGreen Power, www.solesa.eu, and sustainable mobility as TTW Srl and the green vehicle www.ttwvehicles.com

Additionally, he is currently a member of the Board of Aksia Group SpA, Milan, Italy, a leading private equity firm in Italy, and Group Happich Ellamp, Turin, Italy.

From February, 2005 to December, 2006 he was VP International Operations and Business Development at Group Happich Ellamp, running International Operations and Business Development of the newly created Group Happich Ellamp, born from the merger of former Ellamp Group and newly acquired Happich GmbH. Additionally, he led the implementation and strategic guidance of International Operations For GHE in Turkey, India, Mexico and China, and the assessment and restructuring of existing branches and subsidiaries throughout the non-EU markets.

Mr. Garuzzo is a graduate of the London Business School, London, UK and Corporate Finance Modular Program and Financial Seminar for Senior Managers, holds a BA (Hons) in International Business Studies, BIBS, from the European Business School in London.

He is a member of UNIVA, Unione Industriali di Varese representing Group Happich Ellamp in the Giovani Imprenditori organization of Confindustria, and from 2004 to the present, President of Alumni Association of Ebs London.