

Jonathan Lysenko, JD

Title: Director

Amper, Politziner & Mattia

As Director of International Tax at Amper, Politziner & Mattia, Jonathan Lysenko manages the firm's overall international capabilities. He leads Amper's business development and product/service enhancement efforts for the international tax market. Jonathan has over 16 years of professional experience both in and outside of public accounting. During his career, Jonathan has worked with such companies as General Electric, AT&T and Chevron Texaco across a variety of industries including financial services, manufacturing, telecommunications, energy, and biotech.

Jonathan's international tax experience encompasses both outbound and inbound work, repatriation, transactional planning, mergers and acquisitions, and transfer pricing. He has also overseen quantitative studies in earnings and profits, branch accounting (987), expense apportionment and foreign tax credit. Over the past decade, he has played a leading role, both as consultant and developer, in shaping the international tax software tools in use today.

Jonathan received his Bachelor of Arts and Juris Doctor degrees from Brigham Young University. He speaks fluent German and Italian, and conversant Russian.
